

Colton Gibson

Colton started playing volleyball in 2013 and has maintained his involvement in the community since then. He runs off season practices for high school players and for a senior men's team in his spare time.

Colton has been coaching since 2016, when he started with the JV program at Warren Collegiate. Colton has been a great leader throughout his volleyball career. The year after graduating high school he was an Assistant Coach with the varsity program at Warren Collegiate and finished with a third place final in the AA provincial championship.

His passion for the game of volleyball shows on and off the court. He loves to help others improve their game and that is what brought him into coaching. Colton wants to succeed and thrive in a leadership role and has high ambitions to coach at a national level. The opportunity to coach this club team is an incredible goal of his to have achieved.

Colton is very excited for his first year with the WinMan Volleyball Club and hopes to have a long career in coaching. He will be taking on the role as the Head Coach for one of the 16U boys programs.

When not on the court, Colton loves to spend time with friends around the city. He also loves to travel trying to visit new places each year. He is also very family oriented and always considers his team to be family.
